JUBILEE JOY AT PARTIES GALORE

Residents, friends and family celebrate the jubilee with a street party in Lees Close, Brereton, Rugeley

Jubilee dancing in Wolverhampton Road, Cannock

THE bunting and flags have been put away but the memories of the four days of celebration for the Queen's Diamond Jubilee will last for years.

In Rugeley around 50 residents in Lees Close, Brereton, had been preparing for Tuesday's festivities since February.

Youngsters took part in activities such as making their own bunting and giant drafts as their parents chatted over drinks and food. Mother-of-one Debbie Corns helped organise the event.

The 44-year-old said: "Luckily the rain kept off, the children all played together and hopefully they will remember it.

"We live in a cul-de-sac so we all know each other and it was a chance for everybody to get together."

And up to 50 youngsters and their parents attended a Mad Hatters tea party at Horn End Nursery, Rugeley. Children and staff dressed in Union flag colours at the Wharf Road nursery and made crowns during a craft session. Manager Amy Carroll, aged 27, said: "We got some party food and all the music from the jubilee concert."

In Penkridge, a jubilee fun day took place at the Monckton Recreation Centre, Pinfold Lane. Residents enjoyed a fancy dress competition, fete, bouncy castle, face painting, and a beer tent as they celebrated the historic occasion.

The event also saw entertainment later in the day with Penkridge Amateur Dramatics performing Midsummer Night's Dream and live bands Ivy House and Resonance.

Karen Barrett, a committee member at the recreation centre and part of Diamond Jubilee Committee, said: "It's a really good turnout – I would have thought up to 2,000 people are here."

Bound

The Museum of Cannock Chase, Hednesford, organised arts and craft workshops including a balloon modeller and face painter and there was a big celebrationThe Jubilee, Pye Green Road, Hednesford.

Students at Littleton Green Community School, in Colliers Way, Huntington, held a party. Pupils at Fair Oak Academy, Penkridge Bank Road, Rugeley, spent the week decorating the school in flags and bunting.

Since birth a royal connection has bound three sisters who grew up on a monarchy themed housing estate in Cannock.

Rachel Elizabeth Mason, aged 22, lives with her two sisters Kirsty Anne Mason, aged 20, and Rebecca Victoria Mason, aged 24, in Elizabeth Road, Monarch Park estate.

The girls were given their names by their mother Sharon Dawn Mason, aged 51, who, Rachel said is an admirer of the royal family.

She said: "My mum decided when we were born that we should all be named after Queens of England.

"She is a bit of a royalist and thought it would be nice if we had royal names."

Rachel, a music technology student, said it was just a coincidence they ended up growing up in a regal-themed road. The development was built and named 60 years ago in honour of the Queen's coronation.

Cannock Lions, Rotary and Soroptimists decorated Cannock bandstands with flags and bunting and brought in plenty of entertainers to help the people of Cannock celebrate on Saturday.

Britain's Got Talent finalist Jean Martyn got the afternoon off to a rousing start.

There was music through the decades from DJs Ash and Joe from AJ Sounds and easy listening singing by Trevor Santini.

After the peal of bells from St Luke's Church a piper and drummer entertained, then Zumba-Rellas took to the stage. Shirley Brown sang her folk songs and Battle of the Bands' winners Band Camp played.

In the bandstand there were pictures of Cannock from the 1950s, provide by David Battersby and Mike Hewitt, and tit-bits like bread pudding made from a 1950s recipe.

The finale came when singers Robert Follows and his daughter Lucy were joined by Chase Orpheus Male Choir for Land of Hope and Glory and the National Anthem.

Proud

Burntwood councillor, Sue Woodward, watched Tuesday's celebrations on television perhaps a little more intently than most – but not just to see the Queen.

Her son, Joe, a former pupil of Chase Terrace High School (now Technology College) was one of the 700 guests at the lunch organised by the Remembrancer of the City of London on behalf of the Livery Companies of London at Westminster Hall.

His proud mother said: "The first text message we got from him after the Queen had left just said: 'Wow!'"

Council tenant vetting dropped

A PIONEERING scheme to vet council house tenants as part of a crackdown on nuisance neighbours in Cannock Chase has been scrapped.

Staffordshire Police has pulled the plug on the scheme, which would have screened potential tenants and weed out troublemakers. It would have been the first in the Midlands.

Council leader George Adamson said the news was a blow to tenants who could be burdened with problem neighbours as a result.

Chief Inspector Carl Ratcliffe confirmed: "After exploring the idea further, specialist advice was given which meant that the scheme would not be viable.

"Despite this, we continue to work very closely with council colleagues to resolve local issues."

Councillor Adamson said: "We were told by the police they could do this, now apparently they can't.

"We are just going to have to rely on people's honesty and hope they declare any convictions they have."

He added: "It is not good for people who are going to end up living next to a bad neighbour.

"We are going to have to monitor the situation very closely and take the appropriate action if someone is proving to be a poor tenant."

There are 5,500 council homes in Cannock Chase.

Interest in empty shops

TWO vacant shop units in Hednesford are a step closer to being brought back to life after attracting interest from a number of business people, developers behind the town's £50 million regeneration have said.

They have been empty next to the new Hednesford Bingo Hall, in Rugeley Road, since it opened last October but St Modwen Development surveyor Mark Watkins said a number of offers had been received from retailers.

Freedom of Chase honour is revived

A FREEDOM of Cannock Chase honour will be reintroduced after an absence of more than 60 years. Awards were last given in 1951.

Council leader George Adamson confirmed the authority's cabinet unanimously backed proposals.

The Staffordshire Regiment has written to Councillor Adamson in support of the initiative.

Awards are likely to be made to armed forces personnel and people who have raised money for charity, Councillor Adamson said.

Officers are drawing up a detailed report which will be formally passed at a cabinet meeting later this month.

"We will be going ahead with this," Councillor Adamson said.

"I can't understand why we haven't been doing this and members all agreed. We have got a lot of local connections with the military, such as the Staffordshire Regiment.

"The honour will go to people who have given excellent military service, or who have done a lot for charity.

"We had a letter from the Staffordshire Regiment, who are really pleased about it. Apparently we did something in 1951."

Chairman of the council, Bob Todd, will grant deserving people the freedom of at a series of ceremonies.

Three hurt in collision

AN appeal has been issued by police after a Ford Ka mounted a pavement in Walsall Road, Cannock at around 1.50am on Saturday injuring three pedestrian.

Police arrested a man and he has been released on bail pending further inquiries.

A 49-year-old man from Cannock is in a critical condition in hospital and an 18-year-old suffered a broken pelvis. A 27-year-old Cannock received minor injuries.

Anyone with information should contact Pc Glyn Avery on 101, quoting incident number 104 of June 2.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

A LARGISH lady came wobbling down the street towards me with a T-shirt which seemed to have a life of its own and had the slogan: "Make Cupcakes, Not War." I would not mind betting that, in the past 50 years, sugar has killed far more Brits than war.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

IN FACT, the wartime civilian generation which survived on a low-sugar, low-fat diet of just 1,200 calories a day from 1939-45 is one of the fittest we have ever produced. This explains why there are so many of them still about.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

I FEEL sorry for those Olympic flame bearers who are being pilloried for trying to sell their torches on eBay. The argument seems to be that making money is at odds with the Olympic ideal. Poppycock. From the massive salaries awarded to the organisers, to the vast sponsorship deals for those famous health-food companies Cadbury and Coca-Cola, the 2012 Olympics is 100 per cent about money.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

WE ALL remember the number plate of our first car (CNP 464, since you ask), but a survey this week reveals that one-third of British drivers cannot give the number of their present vehicle. No surprises there. The new format (BG60FLR, etc) was launched on the promise that it would be easier to remember. We knew at the time it was a Whitehall whopper and now the truth is revealed.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

ANOTHER survey reports that thousands of Brits cannot afford to retire. I have a theory that retiring is like having kids. If you wait until you can afford it, you'll never do it.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

I FIRST met Tony Blair in the 1990s when he was shadow home secretary. He struck me as shifty back then, remained shifty in Downing Street and was as shifty as ever at the Leveson Inquiry. He is, above all, consistent.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

A READER reports what she calls "an irresistible incentive for buying a new house". The builders' advert declares: "Pay your deposit before August, and we will turf your rear." As she points out, the Spanish have a word for it. Gracias.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

HOME Secretary Theresa May says measures are in hand to deal with any influx of Greek citizens if Greece withdraws from the euro. Daft idea. Here's a better plan Let's welcome all the young, educated, well-motivated Greeks with open arms. At the same time, let's send a few shiploads of our own feckless, illiterate, home-grown skivers in the other direction with a one-way ticket to the Greek islands and £1,000 worth of lager vouchers. Result: no net increase in UK population and happiness all round.

❑❑❑❑❑❑❑

A READER paints this charming picture of Britain in sunshine. The band was playing in her town square. Grown-ups and toddlers sat on the walls to watch the show. The local drug dealers arrived, smiling cheerfully in the sunshine and began flogging dope to their regulars. And although everyone could see the buying and selling of drugs in the broadest of broad daylight, the band played on. The police band, since you ask.

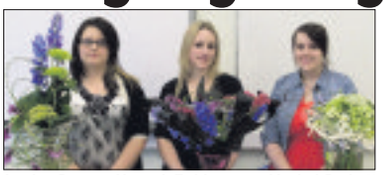
Judges go Gaga for student's creation



Louise Cooper, Hannah Robinson and Isabel Garbett

FLORISTRY students from South Staffordshire College achieved impressive results after competing in a WorldSkills event.

Isabel Garbett, of Burntwood, took the coveted first place in the Intermediate class in the regional heat at Moulton College, Suffolk.

Louise Cooper, also of Burntwood, and Hannah Robinson from Stafford, joined her in the competition against 10 other students.

Each participant had to create a hand-tied design with a structure for Lady Gaga's dressing room. They could make this prior to the event but also had to produce a wristlet design during the heat. The designs were judged by a panel of floristry experts who announced Isabel's creation as the winning entry.

WorldSkills UK is a framework of regional and national skills competitions delivered each year across the UK for young people and adults. The WorldSkills competitions aim to showcase excellence and help lift standards of training and performance to promote world class skills.

Route alongside pool could be shut for good

DRIVERS can lobby their local councillors over plans to permanently close off a road that runs alongside Chasewater reservoir.

Visitors have been left frustrated that Pool Road, which was closed for multi-million pound repairs at the pool, is likely to remain shut.

The £5.5m repair work to prevent an overflow and catastrophic flooding at Chasewater is now complete, but the road, which shut in August 2010, has remained closed to traffic. Staffordshire County Council says this is likely to become permanent, angering residents and councillors.

Town and district Councillor Eric Drinkwater said: "If the county council has its way, the road will not be re-opened to traffic except for residents of Pool Road."

The Chase Terrace ward councillor added that if the order became permanent then people living in Burntwood would not be able to drive across the dam to gain access to the other side of Chasewater. Instead,they would have to take a circuitous route round via the busy A5.

"Burntwood residents should be alert to the fact that there will shortly be a consultation taking place on the issue and if they ignore the consultation it will be too late, the road will be closed to vehicle access," he said."

Access

Burntwood Town Council were set to discuss the closure at a meeting tonight (Thursday).

County Councillor Paul Atkins, who represents Burntwood South, said: "We are proposing to restrict general vehicle access on Pool Road because of road safety issues where it crosses over the Chasewater reservoir dam embankment.

"The road is not designed for regular traffic, the surface is not suitable and the fact it runs along the surface of the dam is also not ideal.

"A full consultation with residents is due to be held soon and a final decision will not be made until this consultation is complete."

Reopening of A&E not guaranteed

HEALTH chiefs have said there are "no guarantees" that Stafford Hospital's accident and emergency department will reopen overnight in October as planned.

Bosses running the Mid Staffs NHS Foundation Trust – which runs both Cannock and Stafford hospitals – said the calibre of applicants for vacant middle-grade doctor positions which must be filled by the deadline had so far been poor.

And chief executive Lynn Hill-Tout told trust board members at a meeting that reopening A&E round the clock when it was unsafe to do so would be the "final nail in the coffin" for the hospital.

The uncertainty over the reopening of A&E emerged when board members quizzed bosses over the failure to re-open A&E in June, as had been planned.

The department was closed overnight amid health and safety fears from last December.

Queen Cally's crowning glory

Councillor Eddie Smith looks on as Dora Leighton crowns carnival Queen Cally Rogers

A NINE-year-old girl enjoyed her crowning glory as she took her place on the throne as Carnival Queen.

Cally Rogers took the honour at a fete held to celebrate the Queen's jubilee at Bridgtown Primary. She was handed the crown by Dora Leighton, the village's oldest resident at the age of 92 and a former pupil at the school, which is in its centenary year.

Bridgtown combined with Longford Primary to stage the carnival at the North Street school. Pupils from all age groups enjoyed the day, which Bridgtown parish council chairman Eddie Smith and Cannock carnival organiser Sheila Dunning had a hand in organising. The village's Bethel church was also involved.

Bridgtown Primary School headteacher Jo Raybould said: "The children all dressed in red, white and blue and stood waving flags as the Carnival Queen arrived.

"There were games and stalls in the playground and Union Street was closed while a street party was held."

Man, 68, set upon by boys on bikes

A PENSIONER ended up with a broken collarbone after being assaulted by two youths in Hednesford.

The 68-year-old man was pushed over at around 9.25pm on May 28 following an exchange of words. He also had a cut to his eyebrow.

Police are now appealing for witnesses.

The incident happened in High Mount Street, near its junction with Mount Street near to a BT phone box.

The offenders were both riding BMX bikes, one of which was blue. One boy was white, aged around 15, 5ft 8ins tall, slim with mousey brown short hair and wearing dark clothes. The other was just 11 to 13, 5ft 4 to 5ft 5ins tall, slim, with short dark hair. It is possible they are related.

DC Paul Whitehouse said: "We are treating this assault very seriously. This was a totally unprovoked attack."

Anyone with information should ring Staffordshire Police on 101.

Fun, games and a picnic

YOUNGSTERS in Great Wyrley enjoyed an afternoon of fun and games and picnic lunch – all in aid of the Queen's Jubilee.

The event was organised by the fundraising committee at St Thomas More Catholic Primary school, in Huthill Lane.

Headteacher Stephanie Hewitt said: "We are so lucky in our school to have such a dedicated team of people who are willing to give up their time to support us. Much fun was had by all."

The school's next fundraising event is its annual Party in the Park on June 22. Tickets are available from the school or by calling 01922 857075.

Ramblers meet for village walks

Ben needs help to follow his acting dream

Ben Wilby with dad Nigel

A CHILD film star from Cannock is appealing to local entrepreneurs and businesses to help realise his dream and attend one of the country's top stage schools.

Ten-year-old Ben Wilby, fwho became familiar to film fans across the globe when he stared in the hit 2009 British comedy Nativity! wants to further his career by attending the prestigious Sylvia Young Theatre School,London.

Former pupils who attended the famous stage school include All Saints singers Nicole and Natalie Appleton, ex-Spice Girl Emma Bunton, Denise Van Outen and Amy Winehouse.

Ben's mother, Jill, said she needs to come up with around £18,000 a year in fees and then the same again for accommodation down in London.

Jill does not work as she dedicates so much time travelling up and down the country with Ben, who regularly appears on ITV's This Morning and several television advertising campaigns for the likes of Tesco, Thirst Pockets, and Harvester. Ben's dad Nigel was recently out of work but has since secured a job in Solihull building internal walls after Ben sent out a direct appeal on website Twitter to Apprentice star Sir Alan Sugar, asking if his dad could have a job.

Jill said: "It's a lot of money and the thought of it scares the hell out of me, to be honest.

"He would need to start the September after next but we really need to start applying now. I don't know how some people can afford it. We could really do with someone who is willing to sponsor him to come forward, or even get a hotel chain to get behind him and help out with his accommodation Monday to Thursday when he needs to be down in London for school."

Meanwhile Ben looking forward to the national cinema release of Nativity 2: The Second Coming, which is scheduled to be released nationwide on November 23. It stars David Tennant.

Benefit cheat web-trade couple are sent to prison

A COUPLE from Cannock who fraudulently claimed more than £50,000 in state benefits while making money trading on the internet, have been jailed. David and Diane Masters pocketed up to £400 a week selling items on ebay and Amazon, Stafford Crown Court heard.

By Mark Mudie

At the same time, the couple were claiming income support, housing benefit and council tax relief, said Miss Amy Jackson, prosecuting for the Department of Works and Pensions.

Their false claims went on for more than four years before it was discovered they had an undisclosed bank account.

The account revealed the couple had average income of between £241 and £404 a week from internet sales.

During the period they illegally claimed £32,307 in income support, £15,019 in housing benefit and £4,552 worth of council tax benefit, a grand total of £51,879.

Message

The couple, both aged 50, of Harrison Road, each admitted three charges of benefit fraud.

They were each jailed for four months by Judge Simon Tonking who told them: "When this amount of money is taken from the public purse, a message needs to be sent out.

"You were obtaining by these internet sales significant sums of money.

"It's difficult to put a precise figure. Between February 2006 and October 2010 you received benefits you weren't entitled to.

"These were substantial sums – £250 a week for four-and-a- half years.

"You cheated your fellow taxpayers.

1I accept the money wasn't used on luxuries.

"You David Masters didn't know the full extent of your debts because you, Diane Masters, were gambling some of that money away."

Miss Jackson said when the couple were first questioned, David denied knowledge of the bank account while his wife admitted internet trading but said she didn't think it would affect her benefit claims.

Mr Stephen Bailey, for David Masters, said: "They weren't using these overpayments to live in any kind of luxury."

Mr Neil Gerrity, for Diane Masters, told the judge: "She saw selling items on Amazon and ebay as a way of keeping their heads above water.

"She also started gambling as a way of finding relief and supplementing the shortfall in the family's income.

The situation snowballed and the debts accrued."

Friends' pedal power pulls in £2,500

THREE friends have raised £2,500 for charity after cycling 900 miles from John O'Groats to Land's End.

Simon Sheldon-Wilson, aged 42, from Acton Trussell, Craig Mountford, 39, from Bloxwich, and Peter Ryan, 43, from Wedges Mills, completed the challenge last week. They more than doubled their original target of raising £1,000 and hope to collect even more as donations are flowing in.

All cash will go towards the work of Wolverhampton-based children's charity, Promise Dreams. Mr Sheldon-Wilson, a father-of-three, said: "All three of us have children so we chose to raise money for Promise Dreams as we wanted to do something for children who are not so well off.

"Promise Dreams works with children who have life-limiting illnesses."

The trio cycled the 900-mile route over nine days. To donate visit upside-down2012.org

You're nicked! Beavers visit police cells

The Brereton Beavers outside Rugeley police station during their visit iin which they spent some time in the cells

BRERETON Beavers found themselves behind bars when they visited Rugeley police station. More than 20 youngsters took part in a visit to the Anson Street station. They tried their hand at finger printing, had a look in police vehicles and spent some time in the cells. Rugeley-based PCSO Liz Dale, from Cannock Chase Local Policing Team, said: "We had 21 members of the group come to the station and they all had a fantastic time."

The group, for those aged five and a half to eight, runs every Thursday at Redbrook Hayes Community Primary School, in Brereton, Rugeley, from 5.30pm to 6.30pm. For more details ring Gill on 01889 800 245.

Future of library secure pledge by council chief

CANNOCK library will only relocate if better premises are secured, council bosses say.

The future of the current building is uncertain after it emerged the library may be re-housed within the town's South Staffordshire College campus.

But culture chief councillor Pat Corfield vowed the town will not lose its library but it could move if better premises are available.

The college is believed to be an option under consideration but council bosses have not ruled out remaining at the Manor Avenue site. There had been fears about the future of the library but the authority insists there are no plans for Cannock to lose its library service.

Councillor Corfield, head of culture, communities and customers for Staffordshire County Council, said the library was successful providing a range of activities including tots time, kids club, wi-fi access and computer lessons.

Any relocation would aim to provide additional space and resources.

"The library is doing so well at the moment I am trying to get extra facilities in," he said.

"Our numbers are going through the roof. The security of the library is 100 per cent guaranteed.

"But if there is any chance to get bigger and better premises it would be foolish not to consider it.

"There is no need to be out by a date, we could go on for some years to come."

The identity of a possible new location for the library has not been confirmed by the council.

It says it wants to maintain libraries and the valuable service they provide within communities.

Cannock Library opens six days a week including late hours until 7pm on a Tuesday and Thursday.

A night of music boosts Bethany memory charity

Nicola Dawson, seated centre, and supporters at Bridgtown Social Club, Cannock

A MUSIC night raised more than £500 for a charity fund set up in memory of a Cannock girl.

Around 10 DJ's performed at Bridgtown Social Club in aid of Bethany's Sunshine Fund on Sunday evening.

It was organised through The Touch of Soul Crew to collect cash for the fund set up in memory of Bethany Dawson.

The two-year-old died in 2009 of a rare intestine infection and her parents launched the Sunshine Fund.

Thanked

The fund raises money for seriously ill children.

It is anticipated the money will go towards a play table for the Birmingham Children's Hospital.

Her mother Nichola, aged 25, said the event had been a big success and thanked everyone for their support.

"I am really happy, everyone has been very, very generous," she said.

"We are only a little charity, we are not raising thousands, but every time we raise something it is helping somebody each time.

"Every little bit helps."

Revamp planned for retail park

A STRUGGLING retail park in Cannock is to undergo a revamp to inject new life into the site.

Changes are earmarked for several units at Linkway Retail Park, which is home to Halfords and McDonalds.

Owners Strathclyde Pension Fund said major changes are needed at the site, off the A5. Manchester-based agents Savills Commercial, working for the owners, say closures of Land of Leather and Focus DIY in the last two years have been a cause for concern.

Andeep Gill, a Cannock Chase Council planning officer, said the owners wanted to improve the site.

Nailed on success

A NAIL business has been so successful the owner is to open a salon in Rugeley. Samantha Brookes started in February and has become so busy she is expanding into Harvey's Nails, Bow Street, and has taken on two local girls. On Saturday June 30, she will be hold a charity launch party to raise money for Rugeley first responders. There will be a raffle and five per cent of the first week's will be donated.

Church in appeal on repairs to old organ

MY church, St Anne's, Chasetown, has a problem with its organ – built in 1864 by JW Walker and restored eight years ago.

After many years of fine service it has, unfortunately, burned out its blower motor and we are unable to obtain any grant aid for its repair. St Anne's is a Grade II listed building and we were helped with the restoration project, but this repair will cost us some £3,000 or so.

Similar to other churches, we are an ageing congregation but full of love for our church. We are looking at ways to get our organ "back on the road" while managing our church upkeep too.

Any donations must be made specifically for the repair. Ideas can be suggested to St Anne's parish office Church Street, Chasetown. Call 01543 686111 or e-mail stanneschurch@hotmail.co.uk

The shackles are now off for spending

SHOULD we really be so over the moon that Council leader George Adamson is now finally seeing the light over the stadium site?

An article in The Chronicle of May 24 revealed that he was at last considering implementing the opposition's suggestions from the last council budget that the sporting facilities on the site should be upgraded

Sadly, as usual with most Labour proposals, there seems to be no substance or detail on how these improvements are going to be funded.

Councillor Adamson threw out any opportunity for a credible plan to raise more than £1million to bring relevant and sustainable sporting facilities to this important site, whilst including for our area some vital affordable housing, during his so called inclusive budget process

We all know that following the local elections the shackles are off for spending by the Labour group at Cannock Chase Council and raising Council Tax by five per cent is also firmly on their agenda for the next two years. Lets just hope that hitting the local taxpayer in the pocket isn't the leader's only idea of a cunning plan to improve the stadium site.

The Labour government left this country with enormous debt which we are all fighting hard to resolve, councils are across the country are as a consequence under great pressure so surely the last thing this district needs is another Labour administration maxing out on spending without a proper plan for repayments.

Make efforts to find work for the jobless

WE as modern day society are going through a bad economic recession. While politicians and other at the top juggle about with statics, targets and so called deadlines, it's high time they realised that it is people that matters and efforts should be made to find positions for the hard-working men and women that have lost their jobs after having been in employment for most of their lives.

When you get them back to work, then you can start on the long-term unemployed, the ones that never had a job.

By reading the papers you can see there are many jobs in the area that cannot be filled. So let's get the unemployed people off their backsides and into these vacancies.

They might say they get more on the benefits, then it's up to the government to make their pay up to what they get on benefits or a bit more. It still going to save the government or taxpayers millions of pounds a year. I, for one, think it makes sense.

Text speak for benefit of PM

AS David Cameron doesn't understand text language, here is what some elderly people may text. ATD: At the doctor's. BTW: Bring the wheelchair. FWIW: Forgot where I was. GGPBL: Gotta go, pacemaker battery low. GHA: Got heartburn again. GGLKI: Gotta go laxative kicking in. RHNH: Ring help, no heating. NEFTD: Not eaten for two days. CMFTC: Can't move for the cold.

David Cameron should remember these before he considers the next round of NHS, pension and social care cuts.

HELEN OF HEDNESFORD

Carrying on fight for fairer share of wealth

IN RECENT weeks we have seen letters aimed at pensioners who should be content with what they are getting instead of continually asking for more.

They miss an important point. Campaigners are continuing to fight for a fairer share of wealth based on the premise 'of us today, you tomorrow'.

There is an ever-increasing wealth gap, with profiteering being the driving force, and in turn this is adding to the cost of living for everyone, particularly those in the lower and middle income brackets, including pensioners.

As we are now seeing, additional support elements are not sacrosanct and can easily be reduced or removed as Governments decide. Too many politicians are cushioned by high salaries, expenses and personal wealth. That is why campaigning groups continue to work on behalf of working classes and pensioners alike, seeking a fairer deal.

For pensioners, getting winter fuel allowance and free bus travel were long hard battles, and while the systems are not perfect, at least deserving individuals are getting the benefit. Without a continual campaign this support could easily be taken away.

Jewellers strikes gold in move to new town base

The Rugeley Gold Quarter has moved to the Market Square in Rugeley from its previous site in Brewery Street

Ann Wigley, from The Rugeley Gold Quarter, in the new bigger shop

A RUGELEY jeweller has welcomed the move to new premises in the town.

Pete Nash, aged 46, has been running The Rugeley Gold Quarter since 1988 from its previous base in Brewery Street.

But in a bid to capitalise on more customers and a greater footfall he has now re-located to a larger premises in Market Square, a more prominent location within the town.

The shop specialises in buying gold, silver and diamonds.

Attractive

Mr Nash, who runs The Rugeley Gold Quarter along with his partner Ann Wigley and mother Kay, said: "This is the first step of moving to the town centre. The new place is a big place in a prime location.

"Obviously before people could not see us well but this location is really attractive. It's just tremendous."

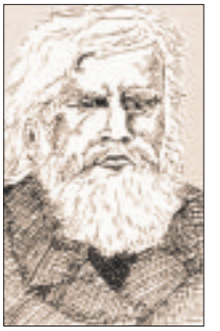
Hoo Mill Lock on the Trent & Mersey Canal where Christina Collins was last seen alive



A sketch of the hangman

The spot on the trent & Mersey Canal where the body of Christina Collins was discovered

The headstone of Christina Collins at St Augustine's

Canal site that became infamous murder scene

VOLUNTEERS carrying up clean-up work at a notorious Rugeley site will be well aware of the area's history.

MEMORY LANE

by Mark Shipp

The Inland Waterways Association has organised regular work parties at the Bloody Steps area of Brindley Bank. At a previous gathering a historic tramway, used to transport coal to Brindley Bank pumping station to fire the engines was discovered. Volunteers faced the task of trying to uncover the rest of the track at their more recent clean-up.

However, the site has a more gruesome history. It was the scene of an infamous murder more than 150 years ago.

Christina Collins, a 37-year-old Liverpool seamstress, was travelling by horse-drawn canal barge in 1839 to London, making the 200-mile journey at speeds of up to just four miles per hour. She was off to join her husband who had found work in the capital as an ostler and the couple planned to start a new life.

Two days into the journey, her body was found floating in the Trent and Mersey Canal, close to Brindley Bank.

Christina had been tormented and molested by drunken, lecherous boatmen. Her body was fished from the water and carried up a set of steps. That stained stairway is still known today as The Bloody Steps.

Following an inquest held at The Talbot Inn, boat captain James Owen and his workers George Thomas, from Wombourne, and William Ellis were charged with her murder. At their trial, witnesses told how Mrs Collins had repeatedly said she felt threatened by the crewmen's behaviour. Owen and Thomas were found guilty and hanged outside Stafford prison on April 11, 1840, in front of a crowd estimated at around 10,000. The hangman was William Calcraft.

Buried

Ellis, who was initially sentenced to death, was later deported to Australia.

Christina retains a link with Rugeley as she was buried in the churchyard of St Augustine's Church.

The story was told in a book by retired headmaster John Godwin and was adapted by Colin Dexter for the Inspector Morse tale The Wench Is Dead.

Ladies are told history of phrases

CHASE TERRACE LADIES

MEMBERS did not know what to expect from the guest speaker Mo Emmans, an artist with an interest in all things mediaeval.

Mo arrived dressed as a pedlar/peasant, circa 1100-1700 and assumed that persona for her talk.

She had made her outfit from a wool and it consisted of a long flowing skirt, a blouse and a jacket. She had tried various methods to dye it, such as beetroot, onion skins and grass and in the end used tea bags.

Mo told all about life in mediaeval times. One of the things she gave an insight into was a history of phrases, things that people still say today but may not know the origins of, for example, the black sheep of the family, pin your ears back, daylight robbery, Scot free, cock-a-hoop and pulling someone's leg.

At the end of Mo's talk, the ladies had a chance to ask questions and to have a look at some of the beautiful cards and other items which she had painted and which were for sale.

Mo can be contacted for talks to groups or gatherings on 0121 477 6465.

Back in the 21st century and refreshments were served before Mo drew the raffle. Barbara was the lucky winner of some lovely flowers.

Demolition starts after bat colony is removed

HOMEOWNERS living close to a former Cannock residential home have welcomed demolition works at the site, dubbed an eyesore. Staffordshire County Council have given the go-ahead for plans to demolish Langbourn House, Longford Road. It closed in 2009.

The buildings had been a haven for anti-social behaviour and metal theft with residents supporting demolition plans. But when a colony of bats set up home in the building work was delayed. They have now been safely removed and workers haved in. Pat Corfield, county councillor member for Cannock town centre, said: "I understand residents' frustrations at the delays in demolition but it was essential that we did everything possible to protect the bats. Now, with work starting on site, the anti-social behaviour should be less likely."

Appeal to adopt a Jubeelee bee

Receptionist Catherine McDonald is encouraging visitors to adopt a Jubeelee bee

PEOPLE are being asked to plant seeds in their garden that will encourage bees as part of a campaign by Staffordshire Wildlife Trust. The trust, based at Wolseley Bridge, near Rugeley, is running an 'adopt a bee' campaign this month.

For £5, visitors to the trust's headquarters will receive a packet of bee-friendly wildflower seeds to attract the insects to their garden, as well as a pack of stickers. All proceeds will go to the trust's work, which includes restoring and creating wildflower meadows for bees and other pollinating insects.

Wolseley Centre receptionist Catherine McDonald, who will be encouraging visitors to adopt a bee at the trust's food and beer festival on June 16, said: "As well as being fascinating creatures, bees are also important pollinators for our gardens and cultivated crops, and are worth £200 million to the UK economy."

Plots snapped up at new cemetery

AROUND 75 per cent of plots have been snapped up at a £1.4 million private cemetery being built near Burntwood.

The cemetery, poised to create five new jobs with the promise of more in the future, has been created in response to growing pressure for burial sites across the region.

Walsall Burial Park is being created by Springhill Cemetery Group and boasts 5,500 plots.

Just a fortnight ago, 64 per cent of the plots had been bought, with a surge to 75 per cent over the last few days.

Many of the plots at the site off the A5195 Burntwood Bypass, between Burntwood and Brownhills, can be bought as investments for the current market rate to be sold on for a profit at a later date.

A spokesman for the cemetery said: "The site was only launched to investors in March this year and looks to be sold out in a month's time if sales continue at this pace.

"The main reason we are so confident in the sale of plots in this time frame if not before is due to the demand we are receiving from insurance companies such as Co-Op, Golden Charter and Dignity who are desperate to bulk-purchase plots in advance."

Travellers camp removed

TRAVELLERS have been evicted from a camp in Hednesford after Cannock Chase Council successfully secured an eviction order from Walsall County Court. The camp was set up off Hemlock Way, last weekend. An officer from the council's environmental health department went to the camp yesterday with police officers to ensure they moved on.The group had set up around nine caravans near homes in Devall Close and Keys Close.

Cannabis plants worth £4,000 found in house

A MAN is facing jail after police found dozens of cannabis plants at a house in Burntwood worth thousands of pounds.

Cannock magistrates heard that police found 18 cannabis plants, with a street value of almost £4,000, when they arrived at Stephen Calcroft's house in Summerfield Road on April 3 this year. This was in addition to 64 smaller cannabis plants found in propagators.

Calcroft, aged 31, now of St Andrews Avenue, Pelsall, admitted producing cannabis. Mr Mark Holder, defending, said: "He has not been charged in a commercial enterprise."

The case is being committed to crown court for sentencing.

Hate crime work leads to award for partnership

A PARTNERSHIP set up to make life safer for Cannock Chase residents has been rewarded for its efforts by the Staffordshire Police Authority.

The Chase Community Safety Partnership won a 'Diversity in Action Award' for its response to a hate crime incident.

Andrew Cooper became a repeat victim due to a facial disfigurement but has worked closely with Chase Community Safety Partnership – made up of various local agencies – to overcome his daily issues.

Hate crime sessions were delivered at schools across the district with Mr Cooper working alongside partners to highlight his personal experiences of bullying.

The sessions gave children an honest an open view of living with a facial disability and has helped to lessen their prejudices. The number of complaints has since reduced.

Mr Cooper said: "The intervention from Chase Community Safety Partnership has made such a difference to my life.

"I have now got the confidence and enthusiasm to expand this further. I have produced a DVD about my experiences and will be speaking at the Chase Against Crimes of Hate AGM.

"I really want to help those that are going through what I did and educate people about those living with a disability."

Crime and partnerships leader Councillor Mike Holder said: "The sessions in local schools have been a huge success and the response Mr Cooper has received has been phenomenal.

"I would like to recognise the bravery and courage Mr Cooper has displayed."

Staffordshire chief constable Mike Cunningham said: "Keeping our communities safe and reassured can be hard work but it is vitally important to the well-being of our society."

College is named as area's top performer

STAFF at South Staffordshire College are celebrating the publication of a Government report which show it is the most successful college in the region for the second year running.

The college, which has campuses at Cannock and Rodbaston as well as at Lichfield and Tamworth, has out-performed others by achieving an overall success rate of 84 per cent, a full 10 points above some of its neighbouring colleges.

The just-published figures are provided by The Data Service, a Government organisation established and funded by the Department for Business, Innovation and Skills, recognised as the single, authoritative source of information for post-16 Further Education with sole responsibility for its collection, analysis and publication.

The college tops performance charts for 16-18 year olds with success rates of 85.8pc.

Pupils spell out walk to school message

Youngsters at St Luke's Primary in Cannock take part in the natinal Walk toSchool Week initiative

YOUNGSTERS at a Cannock school took part in a walking initiative which involved around 40,000 pupils from across the county.

Around 460 pupils at St Luke's Primary School, in New Penkridge Road, Cannock were invited to stroll to school as part of the county's Walk Once a Week initiative. The event was being held as part of the national Walk to School Week. The scheme rewards pupils with collectable badges each month, all with a sporting theme to tie in with the Olympic Games.

It also aims to reduce the number of vehicles parking near to schools, making it safer for pedestrians and cyclists.

Trust balance unhealthy

HOSPITAL bosses have said they are borrowing another £30m to meet costs – but are unlikely to pay it back.

The money comes on top of the £21m that Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust borrowed from the Department of Health in February.

It is understood the trust, which runs Cannock and Stafford hospitals, will struggle to pay off either of the loans.

The £30m is for this financial year, running from April 2012 until May 31 2013. Further cash will also be lent to the trust up to 2015, but these amounts have not yet been finalised.

The figures were revealed at an extraordinary trust board meeting to approve the annual report and accounts. Figures show that as of the end of March 2012 there was a deficit in the trust's finances of £19.9m.

The predicted deficit for end of year March 2013 is £15m, as bosses seek to reduce the amount.

Targets

Darren Cattell, the trust's director of finance, said: "The income and expenditure deficit of £19.911m for 2011/12 was in excess of the £18m planned deficit due to the premium costs of keeping the A&E department open, the additional costs of treating patients to achieve the 18 week referral to treatment targets and the staff redundancy costs incurred to reduce the future wage bill.

"The £21m cash support from the Department of Health received during 2011/12 was to help cover this deficit," he added. "Over the next 12 months the Department of Health has also committed to £30m of cash support to enable the trust to continue to be a going concern and to invest in services such as endoscopy while it works on meeting its financial targets."

Mr Cattell added the hospital was investing £5m in an endoscopy unit – to open in the next year – and is also investing in an electronic patient record system.

It follows news that the closure of Stafford's accident and emergency unit has been extended until October.

Mr Cattell added: "We know we have cashflow problems. Over the next three years there is a financial strategy."

SINGER-songwriter Steve Ashley is the guest at Chase Folk Club tomorrow night (Friday).

Ashley began his career in 1974 with the award-winning critically-acclaimed album Stroll On. His work has been covered by the likes of Fairport Convention, Phil Beer and The Bushwackers.

He will be performing at the Foresters Tavern, in Ogley Hay Road, Burntwood, from 8.30pm. Tickets are £5 on the door.

Call for the doctor

Father and son team Mark Lowe, left, operations director at Dr Air Brake, and technical director Jeff Lowe

A PENKRIDGE firm which serves the automotive industry has won a major award. Dr Air Brake, based at the Lyne Hill Industrial Estate, manufactures and fits specialist electronic and pneumatic braking systems for the motor trade.

The firm won the WABCO (Westinghouse Air Brake Company) National Service Partner Award. WABCO is a supplier of safety and control systems for commercial vehicles.

Dr Air Brake has invited WABCO representatives to its Staffordshire base to unveil its latest creation — the Intelligent Trailer.

Spokesman Gayle Beard said: "The Dr Air Brake team began the day by participating in the Wabco Service Partner Challenge, testing their competence at identifying and repairing commercial vehicle braking faults.

"Preliminary results show a near top score on the challenge, taking Dr Air Brake to third position out of 700 European participants."

Green light for 130-homes bid

PLANNING chiefs have given their backing to a 130-home development on Green Belt land in Norton Canes. The scheme was passed despite concerns over affordable houses.

by Mark Mudie

Original plans for a housing development on the site were withdrawn following opposition from residents.

But Cannock Chase Council's planning committee unanimously backed the proposals, saying the revised scheme "met the aspirations" of villagers.

However they claimed the inclusion of 18 affordable properties was not enough.

Work cannot begin at the 20-acre site, which adjoins Chasewater Country Park, until the National Planning Casework Team formed by the Coalition Government gives the go ahead.

Speaking at last week's meeting, Paul Campbell, representing developer Richborough Estates, said: "These will be predominantly family homes integrated with the rest of the village. Sports pitches, allotments and play areas are included, as well as proposed wildlife areas."

Councillor Bob Todd said: "The ward councillors are for it, the parish council is for it, and I will support the application.

"However, 14 per cent affordable houses works out as 18 homes for this development. That is going to do nothing whatsoever for the people of Cannock Chase on housing waiting lists."

Print firm boosts turnover

CANNOCK printers KJB has boosted turnover by 20 per cent thanks to a new press. It is part of a £1.5m investment programme at the Beechwood Business Park firm.

Commercial director Stephen Egerton said the increased format size and the addition of digital production was necessary for the company to grow.

Earlier this year the company revealed it was aiming to add 11 workers to its 22-strong payroll after investment helped drive its turnover from £1.9m to £4m. It specialises in high quality brochures, pamphlets and stationery.

Opticians has its sights set on extending charity scheme

A LEADING opticians is eyeing up an ongoing initiative following a successful campaign to recycle spectacles.

Chase Eyecare, which has a branch in both Cannock and Hednesford, launched the recycling initiative in aid of a charity which helps people with sight difficulties in developing countries.

The initiative was originally due to be held throughout the month of May, but proved a major a success with 250 pairs of glasses collected for ision Aid Overseas . The opticians is now focusing on keeping the scheme running.

Customers who came into Chase Eyecare to donate their unwanted glasses also benefited by receiving £20 off their new glasses.

Jackie Murphy, Cannock branch practice manager, said: "We have been overwhelmed by the response to the initiative with around 250 frames being collected in just one month.

"Vision Aid Overseas is a wonderful charity which helps so many people in developing countries where excellent eye care facilities are not readily available to people as it is in this country. We have already sent one collection box over to the charity and will now be delivering another.

"I would like to say a big thank you on behalf of Chase Eyecare to all the people who popped in to one of our branches to hand in their unwanted frames.

"Due to its success we will be carrying it on so anyone who still has unwanted frames at home should feel free to pop in."

Around 670 million people, or 10 per cent of the world's population are disadvantaged by poor vision and a lack of glasses. The international charity has been helping some of the poorest people gain better sight for the last 27 years.

Vision Aid Overseas is dedicated to helping people in developing countries whose lives are blighted by bad eyesight, particularly in those cases where spectacles can help

The charity carries out much of its work in Africa in countries such as Ghana, Ethiopia and Zambia but also in other parts of the world like India. Since it was formed in 1985 Vision Aid Overseas has worked in 26 counties and helped more than a million patients to see.

Chase Eyecare has branches in High Green, Cannock and Market Street, Hednesford. Call either 01543 570313 or 01543 422198 for details.

Plaque marks unveiling of library's new chapter

A PLAQUE has been unveiled to mark the official reopening of Cheslyn Hay Library.

The library relocated from its former base in High Street to within the village hall in Pinfold Lane. Although the move took place in February, the official unveiling of the new facility took place at the end of last month.

The county council's cabinet member for culture and communities, Pat Corfield and parish council chairman Robert Denson presided at the launch, meeting residents, unveiling the commemorative plaque and cutting a celebration cake made especially for the event.

Councillor Corfield, a former village resident, said: "Staff have received some very positive feedback from local people about its new location.

"The new library has been brought into a community building which is used by a wide range of organisations. It makes sense to have the library under the same roof as other services, ensuring it is more accessible."

The new library has the same number of books, computers and employees as the previous building. Villagers will also soon be able to make use of a free Wi-fi service, which would not have been possible at the library's former location.

Councillor Corfield added: "At a time when many local authorities up and down the country are threatening to close facilities, Staffordshire County Council will continue to invest in the county's library services, to offer even more to their communities."

Funeral and old advert bring 1960s beat band back together

And this is now – reunited surviving members of This Kind, from left, Paul, Tony and Alan

WITH JUST 10 minutes to go before they went on stage, members of the band This Kind were trying to quash their nerves and get warmed up for their performance.

by Cathy Spencer

That was until a piece of fried fish flew through an open window and hit lead singer Alan Powell squarely on the face

The fish was followed by masses of chips and as the band battled against the torrent of flying food they managed to look out of the window and see a crowd including Noddy Holder and Roger Daltrey standing outside throwing the lukewarm take-away at them.

"Fish and chip fights were very common among bands before a show as we all had different rehearsal rooms so it was easy to distract those who were preparing to go on stage," says Alan, 62.

"When people ask if any of the bands fought we say yes – but only fish and chip fights.

"In the 1960s we battled with Lady Jane and the Royaltee, The Merseybeats, Slade, The Montanas and The Who, to name just a few."

The four members of This Kind grew up in Walsall and were all pupils at W R Wheway School.

They soon realised they all had an interest in music and in 1963 formed a group and saved up money to buy an amplifier by returning drinks bottles.

By 1967 they were touring towns and cities including London and Manchester, and they even did a tour of Germany.

Guitarist

Paul Stokes, 62, who lives in Aldridge says: "When we got a manager we went out on the road and could travel 300 miles in one night to get to a gig. "We went to the American air base in Zweibrucken, Germany, and were there for one month performing soul and Motown."

The group had John Simmonds as lead guitarist but he passed away in January this year after a battle with cancer, which brought the group together again.

Tony Somerfield, 63, who plays bass guitar says after meeting up at John's funeral an old advert appeared in a nostalgia article in the The Chronicle's sister newspaper the Express & Star, which brought the group back together.

"The article in the paper was looking back at adverts which had been in the paper years ago and one of them was for our band," he says. "We spoke to each other on the phone and it inspired us to get back together again.

"Back in the 1960s Robert Mills dropped out quite early from the group but he will be joining us again to take John's place."

Tony, who lives in Cannock, says they still bump into Robert Plant at the Molineux and he saw Noddy Holder in Pelsall recently.

"If John could be here now he would have loved us getting back together – it was the best time of our lives but we just didn't know it."

Team looks back at the first London Olympics

A UNIQUE record of London's first Olympic Games has been created by an Aldridge business specialising in historic images.

Former Labour sports minister Kate Hoey has written the foreword for A Guide to London 1908 which has just been published by Mapseeker Archive Publishing.

The 146-page book, put together in remembrance of the Olympic Games 1908, was created by Mapseeker which was set up two years ago by Paul Leslie Line and John Swann.

With a team, including graphic artists and researchers, they have put together the guide as part of their Armchair Tim Travellers Street Atlas series.

by John Corser

As well as maps of the capital from 104 years ago the book features photographs and documents from the Edwardian era.

Mr Line said that the Olympic movement risked dying out when Rome pulled out of staging the games back in 1906, but the British Olympic Council stepped in to save the day.

"We have included original letters written by Lord Desborough, the chairman of the BOC and reproduced posters and the programme for the games," explained Mr Line.

One of the most time-consuming exercises was creating a map of the Olympic Marathon route from Windsor Castle to the Olympic Stadium at Shepherd's Bush – the first run over 26 miles and 385 yards.

The marathon was one of the most memorable events of the 1908 Games and saw the Italian runner Pietri Dorando who was first across the line disqualified after he collapsed several times and was helped by officials. The gold medal went instead to United States runner Johnny Hayes.

Mr Line said that many of the images had been provided by the University of Birmingham from a scrapbook that was originally made by official timekeeper William Barnard. He was later Amateur Athletic Association chairman and to whom the book is dedicated.

Mapseeker in return donated a large collection of historic maps of Birmingham to the university.

The book also features input from the Wenlock Olympian Society on the role of Dr William Penny Brookes from Much Wenlock in the revival of the modern Olympic Games.

Collins Bartholomew, with whom Mapseeker work closely, have allowed the reproduction of the original atlas and guide.

■ A Guide to London 1908 is being sold through Waterstones and WH Smith and can be ordered through Amazon and Mapseeker's own website www.mapseeker.co.uk

Centre stage for Romeos

STARSTRUCK lovers could take centre stage at the Stafford Shakespeare Festival by making a surprise marriage proposal.

Romeo and Juliet is this year's offering at Stafford Castle and with love truly in the open air, organisers are looking for Romeos (or Juliets) who would like to surprise their partners live on stage. The ultimate declaration to the unsuspecting lover would be made in costume, among the cast, in front of an audience and under the stars.

Those interested in making the ultimate romantic gesture should email their name, their partner's name, their telephone number and the reason why they would like to surprise their unsuspecting loved one to bward@staffordbc.gov.uk by Monday (June 11). Those selected will be informed by phone no later than June 14.

Romeo and Juliet, starring former Emmerdale actress Leah Bracknell runs from June 28 to July 14. For ticket details visit www.staffordfestivalshakespeare.co.uk or call 01785 254653.

Curtain up as top tribute acts perform

TOP tribute acts to The Eagles and Bon Jovi will entertain fans at the Prince of Wales Centre in Cannock later this month.

Desperado will be the first to appear, on Friday, June 22, recreating The Eagles' Hell Freezes Over tour. The Eagles, famous for hits such as Hotel California, embarked on the tour in 1994 after reforming following a 14-year absence.

The show included new songs and old favourites with Lyin' Eyes, Take It Easy and Tequila Sunrise among the tracks and Desperado – billed as 'The heart of The Eagles' – make a welcome return to the Church Street venue aiming to faithfully recreate the whole experience. The show starts at 7.30pm.

Lead singer Tony Pearce from the Bon Jovi Experience

Rock fans have just a week to wait until the Bon Jovi Experience rolls into town. Fronted by Tony Pearce, they are the only tribute to the band to have played and shared a stage with Jon Bon Jovi himself.

Tickets

The Bon Jovi Experience performs at the Prince of Wales on June 29 from 7.30pm with all the big hits expected to be in the set including You Give Love A Bad Name, Livin' on A Prayer, Keep the Faith and Bad Medicine.

Tickets are priced at £16 and can by booked by calling the box office on 01543 578762.

Jethro winners

SANDRA Mansell, of Daywell Rise, Rugeley and Mr M Walker of Longford Road, Cannock, were winners of The Chronicle's Jethro competition in the May 17 edition. They each win a DVD and tickets to the comedian's show at the Prince of Wales Centre on Thursday, June 14.

Forklift firm picks up a huge oil rig supply deal

A CANNOCK firm has been boosted by a multi-million pound deal. Briggs Equipment will supply offshore oil rigs after striking a deal with Asco, one of the world's leading fuel companies. Briggs is working with its manufacturer, Yale Europe Materials Handling, to replace a fleet of handling equipment with new machines.

Many of the trucks are already in operation at 12 sites in Scotland, including the company's round-the-clock Peterhead offshore supply base that has load and unload up to 60 ships per week. Briggs sales executive Gordon Hepburn said: "Asco required a very specific handling solution because if a ship is delayed by just an hour, it could cost the company tens of thousands of pounds and so it needed handling equipment that it could rely on."

The base's operations manager Duncan Bell said the decision to work with Briggs was based on the firm's track record. Briggs engineers staff will maintain the machines.

Funeral boss somersaults into life of a gymnastic

Funeral director and gymnast Mark Stevens

FUNERAL boss Mark Stevens has a serious job during daytime hours but things become more light hearted outside of work.

That is because most weekends, the 28-year-old spends his time somersaulting over buses and tractors.

By Richard Woodall

Mr Stevens, senior funeral director at FM & J Wait, Bird Street, Lichfield, is a leading member of the Kangaroos Gymnastics Team.

He performs with the rest of the 30-strong team at county shows, military tattoos and exhibitions.

"When people find out what I do in my spare time, it definitely takes them by surprise, as it's such a contrast to my day job" he said.

"Even colleagues are taken aback at first.

"There is a stage in the display when the compère tells the crowd what each of the gymnasts do for a living.

"When it gets to me and it's announced that I'm a funeral director, it always gets the biggest cheer of the day.

"People are constantly surprised, and it really stands out from the plumbers, builders and accountants in the group," he added.

Mr Stevens joined the gymnastics team while still at school.

Now he is one of the senior members of the squad, which ranges between the ages of 14 and 30.

Mr Stevens, who recently became funeral director at the 200-year-old Lichfield company, began working in the funeral sector after leaving school and has been with the company for the last seven years.

"You could say that my career in the funeral industry has run in parallel with my gymnastic one, as I started both at roughly the same time," he said.

"To many people, they seem like a big contrast, but both have taught me the importance of team work, supporting others and respect."

Other events Mark has appeared at with his talent include the FA Cup and The Lichfield Bower.

Calendars push recycling

NEW calendars informing people in Cannock Chase about their bin collections are being sent out. The calendars are being distributed by waste crews and will be delivered to more than 40,000 households. Residents are being urged to increase the amount they recycle. Cannock Chase Council deputy leader Councillor Janos Toth said: "The brown bin garden and food waste that is collected across Cannock Chase is turned into peat-free compost. The more we can put into our brown bins, the more we can reduce our green bin waste, which goes to landfill – and we have to pay a landfill tax on every ton of waste that we send to landfill. "Recycling more means we can save money for council taxpayers and do even more to protect the environment."

Tree planting at home leaves a lasting legacy

RESIDENTS at a Great Wyrley care home are helping to leave a lasting legacy for future generations as part of the Queen's Jubilee celebrations.

Lakeview Care Home, in Stafford Road, planted a crab apple tree within the grounds of the home to mark the milestone. The aim of the Queen's Jubilee woods project to plant six million trees across the country. Care home manager Gill Hall said: "Our residents and their families and friends will be able to enjoy it for years to come."

Tracey York, of Lakeview owners Alpha Care Homes said: "It is good to think that something planted to mark 60 years of the Queen's reign could still be growing strong in another 60 years."

Rocket man is ready to touch down

Sir Elton to play LG Arena

'ROCKET Man', Sir Elton John, is set to land at the LG Arena next week with a special 'one night only' show.

Sir Elton will visit the Birmingham venue on Friday (15) giving fans the chance to see him perform some of his best-loved tracks live on stage. Since bursting onto the scene back in the late 1960s, he has gone on to become one of the biggest acts in pop.

Albums

Along with his long-term lyricist Bernie Taupin, Sir Elton has achieved 35 gold and 25 platinum albums, 29 consecutive Top 40 hits and has sold an amazing 250-million records worldwide.

And joining him at the Brum gig are 2CELLOS. The classically-trained musicians have performed together since January 2011 and in that time have become internet sensations.

They have landed a major record deal and management contract whilst being taken under the wing of Elton John.

Laughter is best medicine when doctor is squeaky Joe

DOCTOR In The House takes to the stage at Wolverhampton Grand from Monday, starring one of Britain's best loved funnymen, Joe Pasquale, and award-winning stage and screen actor Robert Powell, who is still best known for Jesus Of Nazareth.

The farce follows the misadventure of the inexperienced young medical student Simon Sparrow as he begins his five-year internship at St Swithin's Teaching Hospital, where he runs foul of head surgeon Sir Lancelot Spratt.

Books

Stand-up comic Pasquale plays another hapless medic and Powell plays Sir Lancelot.

The original Richard Gordan novel, Doctor In The House is one of 12 Doctor books drawing on the writer's own anecdotes from pre-war medical school.

The Doctor In The House film was the hit British movie of 1954.

The show continues at the Grand to June 16.

Counselling session for Numb comic

Simon Amstell
New Alexandra Theatre, Birmingham

FUNNY man Simon Amstell's routine may be hilarious but is not so much stand-up as lie down and call the counsellor.

He has called this tour Numb, because he says the word describes his suppression and inability to communicate. Cue self-deprecating tales of his relationship with his father, lovers, celebrity friends and world at large.

Some leave you crying with laughter – others with a hope that, at 32, he isn't taking life as seriously as he suggests. His stories are told with the same natural ease that he brings to his TV roles.

He dealt with interruptions brilliantly, showed excellent timing and even gave us a fresh angle on the humour of over-groomed assistants on make-up counters. It helped compensate for his tendency to be preachy and to lift material from the last episode of his own Grandma's House series the same week that it was aired. Unfortunate.

Susan's dream comes true

I Dreamed A Dream, Birmingham Hippodrome

SUBTITLED The Susan Boyle Musical, this show based on the life story of the Britain's Got Talent singing sensation has a bonus most tributes can't boast – the woman herself waiting in the wings.

The theatre erupted when she stepped out in a shimmering red dress to sing THAT song. Her voiced cracked a little, prompting the 51-year-old Scot to pull an 'oops' face but she nailed it with the big crescendo in the anthemic song from Les Miserables.

A cheeky wiggle and a twinkle in her eye and she asked if we wanted another, following I Dreamed A Dream with the defiant and celebratory Who I Was Born To Be.

Extraordinary

Was the show that preceded this brief but extraordinary performance any good? Yes.

Boyle's wasn't the first standing ovation. Elaine C Smith also had the audience on their feet for her portrayal of the dowdy, unconfident spinster hiding an incredible talent. The Rab C Nesbitt TV actress (Smith played Rab's long-suffering wife Mary) got the blend of timid and feisty right, and it helped that she has a strong singing voice.

Songs from the 1960s and 70s (most covered on Boyle's three albums) sung to a recorded soundtrack charted the story from school bullying for being "different", via fledgling romance crushed by an over-protective father, to a lonely existence after the deaths of her parents. And then looked at the global stardom brought by Britain's Got Talent and the power of one YouTube clip, enhanced by a set made up of dozens of TVs.

The production, which suggested Boyle wants to be a singer not a celebrity, didn't flinch from insults hurled by bullies, both in the playground and the national press.

The use of songs to illustrate these phases were sometimes inspired. The lyrics of Janis Ian's At Seventeen fit perfectly. The use of Stealers Wheel's Stuck In The Middle With You while she waited in line with TV talent show wannabes was a terrific set piece.

But the show, co-written by Smith with Alan McHugh, often lapsed into cliched dialogue despite a few sparky lines – like when her singing teacher asked her to try scales and she admitted being "chunky".

I anticipated sentimentality, however, the scenes where her parents' deaths saw them going upstairs to a shining door like taking a staircase to heaven was a bit much.

The audience loved it but I wonder if they would have turned up in such numbers if the woman herself had not been making an appearance.

One thing is clear, Susan Boyle has become an icon for anyone who feels underrated, excluded, uncool, bypassed or forgotten – and anyone who hopes that dreams can come true.

Nashville's

Lady Antebellum

AMERICAN country music's new generation has embraced pop and won many young fans thanks to Taylor Swift, The Civil Wars and Nashville trio Lady Antebellum.

The latter trio, whose name refers to pre-Civil War America, had UK hits with Need You Now and I Run To You.

Now the Grammy award-winning Charles Kelley, Hillary Scott and Dave Haywood plan a UK tour, including Birmingham's O2 Academy on July 17.

Arena stars

MAJOR new gigs announced for Birmingham's LG Arena include Texan singing sensation Kelly Clarkson, the first winner of American Idol, on October 14; the return of those 'Nutty Boys' Madness for a festive knees-up on December 13; and, way ahead, Jessie J on March 1, 2013.

Lee McKenzie presents the best of the action, as what has been a thrilling season so far continues with the battle for pole ahead of the seventh round in Montreal. Red Bull's Sebastian Vettel finished ahead of the field to claim his sixth pole position in seven races during the 2011 campaign. Six different drivers have taken the honours in as many Grands Prix at the start of the campaign for the first time in Formula 1 history, and with the likes of Hamilton yet to taste victory, a seventh different winner cannot be ruled out.

Sheila Ferguson

The Royal History of Pop Channel 4, 10pm

The recent Diamond Jubilee concert, which saw current chart stars like Jessie J, Ed Sheeran and JLS joining knights of the realm Paul McCartney and Cliff Richard to pay tribute to the Queen, may have left some old punks nostalgic for 1977, when the Sex Pistols were advocating Anarchy in the UK and it wasn't cool to cosy up to the establishment. But as this documentary points out, the link between pop and the monarchy dates back long before Gary Barlow was composing songs for Elizabeth II– in fact, the love-hate relationship has existed since the birth of rock'n'roll.

Top property guide for Cannock, Penkridge, Heath Hayes, Rugeley, Hednesford, Great Wyrley and Burntwood

Young family enjoys an 'easy move' to a new Rugeley house

WHEN Pippa Lewitt and Chris Nesbitt found out they were expecting their third child they quickly realised their three-bed semi was no longer going to be big enough.

Fortunately, they knew they'd found the perfect place for their new family when they visited Taylor Wimpey's Levett Grange development in Rugeley – and not a moment too soon as Pippa by then was heavily pregnant.

Thanks to the leading house-builder's fantastic easymover scheme, their move a couple of months later to the spacious four-bedroom 'Marlow' detached house was stress-free, even though they now had baby Finley as well as Harry, aged three and one-year-old Archie in tow!

Pippa, 33, said: "We just ran out of room in our old house and wanted to get a bigger property and we've found exactly what we were looking for at Levett Grange. It's all worked out so well.

"When we walked into the house we purchased, we knew it was the one we wanted.

"There's so much space in the hallway, it's like having an extra room to play in. We use the dining room as a play room, because the kitchen is big enough for our table so we have our meals in there.

"The children are much happier because they've got all the space they need."

The well-planned layout of the Levett Grange development also appealed to the couple as well as its desirable location on the outskirts of Rugeley.

"We just fell in love with the development," says Pippa. "The houses are well spread out and there's a play area next to the house, which really appealed. Now we're here, it's so handy with three little ones. We can walk out of our front door and the play area is right there!"

The easymover scheme delivered the best of both worlds for the couple – a hassle-free move in which Taylor Wimpey found a buyer for their existing property in Armitage, near Rugeley, and a better price for their old house than they would have received through Part Exchange.

Pippa comments: "Easymover was fantastic from start to finish. We managed to achieve more than we thought using the easymover scheme – without the need for Part Exchange."

"People say moving house is stressful but it wasn't for us – even though Finley was only eight weeks old when we moved in! In fact, it's been a really pleasurable experience."

The family have now settled down to life in their new home. Chris, 29, takes the train to his job with Yellow Pages in Birmingham, while Harry starts at the nursery based at Chancel Primary School in September.

Superb

Levett Grange is in the catchment area for the school, which has been rated good by Ofsted with some outstanding features and Pippa hopes the children will get a place there when it's time for them to start school.

There's a superb selection of four-bedroom detached properties currently available at Levett Grange, priced from just £194,995.

The development is conveniently located in Wolseley Road on the outskirts of Rugeley and enjoys a spacious layout including secluded cul-de-sacs and attractive landscaped avenues.

The new homes lie within easy reach of a host of amenities in this historic Staffordshire town, including an indoor shopping centre, a thriving outdoor market held three times a week, plus a wide selection of pubs, restaurants, takeaways, supermarkets and a leisure centre.

Pippa Lewitt and Chris Nesbitt, along with their sons Harry, three, Archie, one) and Finlay (just a few months old) are enjoying life in their new home at Taylor Wimpey's Levett Grange development

Commuters will appreciate that the A460 and the A51 are both just a short distance from home, providing quick links by road to Stafford, Lichfield, Burton upon Trent and Birmingham. Rugeley Trent Valley railway station is located only a mile from the development for frequent and direct services to Birmingham New Street and Stafford.

Levett Grange Sales Centre is located in Wolseley Road, Rugeley, WS15 2FB, and open daily from 11am to 5pm. Alternatively, the Sales Executive can be contacted on 0845 072 9858.

Estate agent Strutt and Parker is handling the sale of this home in Claverley

A WORKING farm until 1970 and with origins dating back to the 17th century, Little Sytch House near Claverley is now on the market with a price guide of £850,000.

The property has been massively improved and thoughtfully modernised for sale of living whilst retaining many attractive original features.

All the reception rooms enjoy generous proportions and the immense inglenook fireplace in the sitting room with Clearview stove ensures a really warm welcome, while the adjoining room makes for ideal space for entertaining.

With a good range of base and wall-mounted units the kitchen has a four-oven AGA cooker and integrated appliances including a dishwasher as well as double oven and hob, with further storage and space for appliances in the utility room where there is a separate store and secondary stairway to bedrooms.

Adjoining the kitchen the garden room has double doors to the patio as well as climate control for warm summer months, and there is also a ground floor shower room.

To the first floor the master bedroom has built-in storage with four further bedrooms sharing two bathrooms, and the attic has been converted into two rooms which can be accessed from the main landing.

The property is approached off a quiet country lane with gates to a driveway for numerous vehicles, with the gardens lovingly landscaped with formal gardens laid to lawn with colourful beds as well as mature herbaceous and flowering borders with a south facing patio area ideal for al fresco dining or simply relaxing and enjoying the view.

Screened by mature trees is a productive vegetable garden and fruit trees together with a paddock, while separated by a stream and accessed by three bridges – one vehicular – are two further paddocks amounting to some 4.5 acres of pasture in total.

An ideal equestrian facility, Little Sytch House has a concrete yard with drainage, water and power connected surrounded on three sides by outbuildings – a 60ft timber building of five separate units comprising workshop, stable and three garages.

Countryside

There is a further separate stable block with two stables as well as an old stone barn used for storage, while a ménage is fully drained with a sand/rubber riding surface.

Helen Lowery of agents Strutt and Parker said: "This outstanding family home provides extensive accommodation arranged over three floors and sits within beautifully landscaped gardens in a glorious hamlet surrounded by open countryside.

"Numerous period features throughout the property add to its immense charm ranging from exposed timbers to feature fireplaces and the many windows frame wonderful views whilst also ensuring the property is beautifully light."

MG now launching new scheme to aid local businesses

MG MOTOR UK is launching a scheme for employees of local industry, councils and other organisations.

Membership of the first MG Privileged Members Car Scheme is being offered to the 46,000 people who work for Birmingham City Council. Other schemes will follow shortly.

The new leader of the council, Sir Albert Bore, pledged his commitment to MG Motor UK and the council workforce when he launched the first partnership car scheme and said he was keen for others in the private and public sector to follow.

"Our policy is to buy Birmingham wherever possible. This will create work in the city and get our people back in jobs," he said. "MG's new scheme will give Birmingham City Council staff an incentive to buy Birmingham when they are thinking of buying a car. This can only be good for the city.

Sir Albert said supporting MG would be a council priority.

"We are delighted that there are 400 highly-skilled jobs at Longbridge.

Commitment

"Just a few years ago we were faced with the prospect of an empty site and the loss of those skills. MG has shown a commitment to Birmingham. We will show a commitment to MG."

Guy Jones, sales and marketing director of MG Motor UK, said: "We have had great support from Birmingham City Council ever since MG Motor UK started operating and recognise that the council is one of the largest employers in the region."

Buying an MG helps the West Midlands. Now MG has set up a scheme for employees of local businesses

Tips to keep family safe while travelling by road

WHETHER you're off on a family holiday, visiting friends for the weekend or just on the school run, keeping safe on the go has never been easier thanks to these tips from child-safety specialist Clippasafe:

1 Check your car seat is correctly fitted and the straps are in good shape – many garages will carry out these simple but lifesaving checks free of charge.

Clippasafe's Secure-Belt Travel Pillow

2 If your child's car seat is fitted in the front passenger seat, ensure that this air bag is disabled.

3 Toddlers are full of beans and can often wriggle free from their car seat straps. Keep them safe, secure and comfortable with Clippasafe's Secure Belt Travel Pillow (from £6.99). It encases the car seat shoulder straps, holding them securely in place on the child's shoulders, whilst providing a snug cushion to support the head.

4 Be ready for the worst. Always make sure you travel with emergency phone numbers including vehicle recovery contact details. Keep an emergency pack in the car in case of long tailbacks or breakdowns – in addition to basic essentials such as blankets, a torch and water, think child-specific and make sure you have some age-appropriate food and additional clothing for each child. An infant car seat rain cover will keep babies dry and comfortable should they need to spend any time outside.

5 Fit a Baby or Child on Board sign to the rear window – in an accident, this will alert any emergency services to search for a little one.

6 It's vitally important expectant mothers keep themselves and their bump safe as they travel. Clippasafe's Advanced Bump Belt (£24.99, www.clippasafe.co.uk) ensures that the seatbelt lies across the lap and does not ride up onto the pregnancy bump. In the case of a crash, it makes sure that seat belt is positioned to transfer the pressure through the hips and pelvis, instead of the womb, reducing the risk of serious injury.

7 With summer approaching and temperatures rising, fit roller blinds or sun shades to car windows. These will keep little ones shaded and the vehicle cool. Should you need to get out of the car – even for a very short while – make sure a window is left slightly open to allow cool air to circulate.

8 A child rear-view mirror is a safe way of keeping an eye on little ones in the back without putting yourself or other road users at risk.

9 Maintaining peace and harmony among back seat travellers is crucial to lessen dangerous driver distractions. Before setting off, give mini passengers their own travelling kits including toys, colouring items and healthy, non-messy snacks. Keeping each kit's contents as similar as possible to avoid squabbles.

10 Don't forget that just as little travellers can feel weary, so can you. Stop regularly for breaks and never drive when tired.

City is revving up to mark link with motoring history

COVENTRY'S connections with the motor trade will be the focus of celebrations this weekend when the city's university hosts Coventry Car Day.

The event, on Saturday June 9, is free for all visitors, and is a celebration of past, present and future cars in Coventry.

It will be held in University Square, near Coventry Cathedral, and the new Hub student building.

Coventry University will be showing over 70 veteran and vintage cars, classics, current production cars, concepts, race cars and many more.

Among the extensive array on display will be a rather special Aston Martin DB7 Vantage as well as the Coventry Transport Museum's own Alvis Speed 25 and British-built, electric vehicle The Lightning GT.

Other makes include Peugeot, Jaguar, Ferrari, Mercedes Benz and Triumph.

Coventry Car Day is proud to be celebrating cars from one end of the scale to the other starting with the Ford Evos concept car, with its futuristic gull-wing doors, which will make its UK public debut in Coventry following its starring appearance in the Frankfurt show in 2011, to the Ford Model T.

Influential

The charming 101-year old Ford is owned by local enthusiast Nigel Hugo and the model is often regarded as the most influential car of the 20th century.

The cars are not the only attraction.A symposium, held between 9am and 1pm, will feature academic and industry speakers debating the future of the car.

Thanks to Peugeot's support of the event the symposium will be free for all visitors, however numbers are limited and so online registration is essential.

Those wishing to attend this debate can register at eventsforce.net.

For those who want to take their passion for motor vehicles further, an informative careers event will take place between 11am and 2pm, attended by automotive employers and organisations, such as Land Rover, Nissan and the Guild of Motoring Writers.

Cars old and new will be on display in historic Coventry

Coventry University's own careers and employability team will join these industry professionals.

Other highlights of the day are Sir Nick Scheele's annual Bugatti Lecture, which will concern the British Motor industry over the years and its future prospects, beginning at 1.30pm, and a Car Question Time, held between 3 and 4pm, chaired by Autocar's Steve Cropley.

Visitors are, advised to register to attend these events at Coventry.ac.uk/Coventrycarday.

Made in Essex: engineers at Ford's design centre make the case for petrol

Ford's new petrol unit puts diesel to the test

By Ian Donaldson

AMAZING but true, the fine-driving Ford Focus is now at its finest with the smallest engine in the range. And driven gently you'll be saving the planet while having fun.

Until recently diesel power looked like the conventional answer to better fuel figures: simpler and cheaper than adding batteries and electric motors. More sure of a result, too.

But with tough new Euro laws about tailpipe pollution on the near horizon it's going to be expensive to make diesels comply, so car makers are turning back to petrol power.

Now, from Ford's European engine design centre in deepest Essex, comes perhaps the most convincing case yet that there's life left in petrol.

With a mere three cylinders (four is the usual minimum) and capacity of just one litre, this is a little engine for sure, taking up less space and weighing lots less than the 1.6 litre lump it's designed to make redundant.

It also posts a 56.5mpg diesel-like economy figure in the official Euro tests every new car has to endure, but more of this later. All is not what it seems when the rules have to be observed.

The high-tech content of the new engine (with an expensive turbocharger included) means you'll pay £250 extra for the little 'un under the bonnet, compared to the current 1.6 which produces the same 125 horsepower but does less well in the official economy tests.

At £17,945 for the likely most popular Zetec version, the Focus is not a cheap car. Splashes of sporting red inside the car added a visual lift, helped by a Persil-white paint job.

It doesn't take long (well, moving off from rest will do it) to realise Ford's bevy of Essex engineers have come up with a gem.

It sounds eager in a distant and charmingly thrummy way and any fears that the tiny powerplant might shake itself to pieces is banished as you engage the clutch and pull smoothly away.

With the turbo puffing fuel and air into the engine from low revs you'd never believe there was an engine up front that some motorcyclists would consider insultingly small.

Terrier

It pulls like a terrier hanging on to a bone and the new lightness up front means the Focus, already a nimble-feeling car, gains a delightful edge of added eagerness when you turn the wheel for a corner.

This latest version of the Focus has been gently chided for a lack of driving delight compared to earlier models. If that was true, it is no more with this minimally engined model.

But we must now cut to the chase. Driving delight is but an incidental in this car's battery of pluses. It exists to make a gallon of petrol go a long way, and as closely matched to a diesel as possible.

Good for Ford, there was an old-engined 1.6 litre petrol model available for a drive before jumping into the new baby. First impressions, as always, were of a car designed to please a keen driver.

At the end of the shortish test the trip computer showed I'd managed 38mpg over a mix of country roads and edge-of-town work, none of it good at making the most of the contents of the tank.

Switching into the new 1.0-litre machine it was hard not to enjoy its delights, although even at modest speed the way it answers the helm will make any driving enthusiast smile.

And at the end of the same test route... the same answer on the dash: 38mpg.

I don't doubt that with restraint that figure will improve, perhaps greatly. As it stands I need longer with the car – not a hardship and something I look forward too.

The future may have arrived. I hope so.

Showing the way – Mercedes-Benz UK has launched a programme aimed at keeping cars on the road

Saviour service to reduce the number of Mercedes write-offs

IN a bid to reduce the number of vehicles written-off by insurance companies due to accident damage, Mercedes-Benz UK has launched its new write-off avoidance programme known as Saviour.

The programme focuses on vehicles in Category C (extensively damaged) and D (damaged), which would normally be considered as beyond economical repair and provides the necessary support for them to be repaired by a Mercedes-Benz approved Collision Repair Facility, using Mercedes-Benz Genuine Parts.

For Mercedes-Benz vehicles, parts prices represent 53 per cent of a collision repair cost.

Where a vehicle is considered as borderline write-off, approved Collision Repair Facilities are provided with reduced Mercedes-Benz Genuine Parts prices and direct financial support, to ensure that a bill price is arrived at which encourages the insurer to decide in favour of a repair, rather than a write-off.

Increased

Jemma Page, Body Repair Programme Manager of Mercedes-Benz UK, said: "Saviour will work towards ensuring insurance companies direct more Mercedes-Benz collision repairs to Mercedes-Benz approved Collision Repair Facilities.

Write-off avoidance will help our Approved Collision Repair Facilities through increased revenue from labour sales, a decrease in costs due to non-recoverable overheads (like estimating a repair for a vehicle that later turns into a total loss), and a reduction in total loss ratio.

"The programme provides a point of contact at the manufacturer, and increased satisfaction and retention of Mercedes-Benz customers."

To find out more about becoming an approved collision repair facility, contact your local Mercedes-Benz retailer.

The special edition Roland Garros convertibles are inspired by the French Open tennis tournament

French tennis classic serves for this Peugeot

TWO special edition convertibles have been unveiled by Peugeot, based on the 207 CC and 308 CC.

Both share the 'Roland Garros' name that's famously linked with the venue for the French Open tennis tournament.

The two new models will have unique trim details and be available only in black or white.

Key upgrades for the 207 CC, which is based on the Allure trim level and will cost from £18,795, include leather seats, a Roland Garros wind break behind the seats and Roland Garros-embroidered carpet mats.

Power

Other features to grace the 207 CC will be aluminium door sills, 17-inch 'Melbourne' alloy wheels, dual-zone air conditioning, an automatically dimming rear-view mirror and automatic headlights.

There is cruise control with a speed limiter, Peugeot Connect with Bluetooth connectivity, rear parking sensors, electric folding door mirrors and tinted rear windows.

There are two engines available to power this special 207: the 1.6-litre VTi 120 petrol and the 1.6-litre HDi 112 diesel.

The larger 308 CC Roland Garros comes in a slightly different choice of black or white.

It comes with more power, with the three available engines being a 1.6-litre THP duo with either 156 or 200 horsepower, or a 2.0-litre HDi 163 diesel.

It has blue and grey leather seats, 18-inch wheels taken from the GT hatchback, Bluetooth, front and rear parking sensors, automatic headlights and automatic windscreen wipers.

Like the 207 CC Roland Garros, it features the wind break and carpet mats with Roland Garros logos.

The 308 CC is more expensive than its smaller cousin, at £25,845.

Both will carry Roland Garros exterior badging and can be viewed at www.peugeot.co.uk/special-editions

In Memoriam

WALKER

Hilda Joan

Passed away June 4, 2011.

We shared so many things in life, laughter, love and tears, but in my heart I truly wish we could have had more years.

Love and miss you so much.

Your loving Husband Hammy.

XXX

Mom

In a place deep in my heart I keep a memory box which makes me smile or shed a tear, each time that it unlocks it opens oh, so easily and sometimes on the hour, it only takes a certain song or maybe just a flower and simple things, like sunlight glinting on the morning dew can open up that treasure chest I've filled with thoughts of you and days just like today, dear Mom will always turn the key and free those lovely memories that bring you back to me.

Love from all the Family.

Fifth win on the run keeps top place for Penkridge

Penkridge 295-5, Bridgnorth 160. Penkridge won by 135 runs

PENKRIDGE firsts won their fifth consecutive game to move clear at the top of Birmingham League Division Three.

Despite losing the toss and being put in, Penkridge made a good start.

An impressive 134 second-wicket partnership between Ben Holmes (46) and Rana Hassan (116) laid the foundations for a big score.

Hassan's fluent knock came off only 101 balls and he was ably supported by Laeq Chishti (55 not out) as Penkridge finished with a daunting total of 295-5.

In reply, Bridgnorth lost early wickets and were never really in the hunt for victory. There were two wickets apiece for Laeq Chishti, Roger Weston and Shafiq Ahmed with Ross Shelton bagging three.

Penkridge 200, Smethwick 134. Penkridge won by 66 runs

Penkridge seconds took top spot with an excellent victory over former league leaders Smethwick.

Asked to bat, Penkridge posted 200 with Ian Brown (75) and Matt Jenkinson (35) holding the innings together.

But Penkridge's bowlers soon got to work and had Smethwick in trouble.

Faisal Nadeem (3-27) and new-boy Dipesh Patel (3-18) inflicted the most damage as Smethwick were dismissed for 134.

Penn 194-8, Penkridge 199-9. Penkridge won by one wicket

An extraordinary last-wicket stand saw Penkridge thirds take a thrilling victory against Penn.

Penkridge were nine wickets down and 65 runs short of victory when No.11 Nadeem Tariq strode to the crease.

But he made an unbeaten 55 and with Shirjeel Mir contributing 18 not out, Penkridge got there.

Penn had looked to be in the driving seat as Oliver Zaki, Pritpal Grewal and Adam Elshaw claimed three wickets each.

Penn had posted a respectable 194-8 from their 50 overs, with all the Penkridge bowlers among the wickets bar Zahoor Iqbal, whose seven overs went for a miserly 17 runs.

There were two victims apiece for Tariq, Usman Butt and Mir.

Alasdair Rigby shows his Midlands decathlon medal

Top 10 start for decathlete

ATHLETE Alasdair Rigby finished 10th overall in his first decathlon – and also picked up a silver medal.

Rigby, of Cannock & Stafford Athletics Club, was competing at the England Senior Combined Events championship at Bedford.

The championship incorporated the regional competitions, so Rigby's efforts saw him take a Midlands Counties silver medal.

He finished the opening day of his first decathlon on a healthy 2,955 points.

After starting with a personal best of 11.82sec in the 100m into a wind of 1.6metres a second, Rigby followed with his furthest legal long jump of 6.35m.

He was slightly disappointed with his 7.32m shot put, but then cleared 1.80m in the high jump and ran his fastest 400m with a time of 53.72sec to leave him 12th out of 22 starters at the end of day one.

Rigby's hurdling ability has improved greatly over the last 12 months and this is fast becoming his best event.

He duly recorded a time of 16.48sec in the 110m hurdles – into a head wind at that – to start the second day off well, taking nearly half a second off his previous personal best.

More best figures followed and a 23.37m discus and 2.70m pole vault left the Cannock 20-year-old needing to land 750 points from the last two events to break through his 5,000-point target.

A total of 313 points were scored in the javelin, where Rigby threw exactly 31metres.

He then took just under five minutes in the final event, the gruelling 1,500m.

That left him finishing on 5,132 points to take the Midlands silver.

Nick Yelloly on the podium at Spa-Francorchamps

Runner-up Yelloly is victor over driving rain

RACING driver Nick Yelloly mastered treacherous weather conditions at Belgium's legendary Spa-Francorchamps circuit to finish second in the Formula Renault 3.5 event's second race.

It was only the second time that the MSA Team UK driver had raced at the track.

Weather conditions for the weekend, as frequently happens at the circuit, were unpredictable.

Saturday's qualifying session took place under warm and dry conditions and Stafford-born Yelloly, struggling with balance and understeer on the car, finished 13th on the grid.

Yelloly pulled off some good passing manoeuvres and finished ninth.

Sunday's qualifying session saw pouring rain but Yelloly qualified sixth, promoted to fifth after Sam Bird was relegated to last place due to a fuel irregularity.

With the rain continuing to pour, the second race of the weekend was started under safety car conditions.

On lap three the drivers were released and one lap later Yelloly snatched fourth place from Lewis Williamson.

On lap seven Jules Bianchi made his mandatory pitstop and one lap later Robin Frijns pitted, elevating Yelloly to second.

Putting in some strong laps and making a late pitstop on lap nine, Yelloly was able to jump Bianchi and Frijns in the pits and rejoined the track in the equivalent of second place as four drivers in front of him were still to make their stop.

On lap nine the safety car was brought out to deal with an accident. The race was restarted under safety car conditions and Yelloly thought it too dangerous to pass first-placed Kevin Magnussen. Frijns was third.

Skipper's bowling vital to much-needed victory

Wolverhampton 108, Cannock 111-6. Cannock won by four wickets

SKIPPER Ant Wood took 6-30 as Cannock thirds claimed a much-needed victory.

Wood, yet to lose a coin toss this season, again called correctly and opted to field.

Two wickets in the first over immediately put Wolverhampton on the back foot as the captain found movement both in the air and off the wicket.

Spinner Matt Bull then took over, grabbing 3-18 as Wolverhampton were shot out for just 108 in 31 overs with Ryan Singh top scoring with 31.

Cannock's reply started disastrously and after just 12 overs they were floundering at 38-5.

Excellent bowling by the Wolverhampton opening pair put the game in the balance.

But a 43-run partnership between Ryan Peach and Tom Cope then swung the game back in Cannock's favour.

Cope fell for 19 but Elliot Horton joined Peach at the crease and made an unbeaten 19.

Peach finished 31 not out as Cannock reached their target without further mishap.

Cannock Colts 122, Wellington U15 102. Cannock won by 20 runs

Cannock Colts took a fine East Shropshire League victory at reigning champions and unbeaten league leaders Wellington.

With the pitch showing signs of wear, captain Ryan Peach decided to bat first.

Cannock CC

Despite a good start from the visitors, the Wellington attack bowled with great accuracy and a steady fall of wickets kept the run rate down with Cannock never able to stay much above three an over.

Opener Dan Wood's 55 helped Cannock to 122 all out after 38 overs.

There were also useful contributions from Kieran Squire (17), Jack Twigger (14) and Alex Rowe (14).

Wellington's reply began with 10 runs coming from the first over, but a four-wicket burst by Twigger reduced them to 36-5.

Jack Sherry (34 not out) rallied Wellington and they got to 70 before James Williamson fell to the bowling of Wood.

Two more wickets for Wood (3-23) followed and Wellington's struggle ended when the returning Twigger took the final wicket to finish with 5-26.

Victory saw Cannock keep their own unbeaten run. They now look forward to a visit from Worfield.

Cannock under-nines cricket team opened their new season with two victories over local opponents Hawkins

Two wins start under-nines' competitive season

CANNOCK under-nines played their first competitive games of cricket and gained two victories against local opposition in Hawkins CC.

Hawkins 243-3 (228 net), Cannock 255-0. Cannock won by 27 runs

The eight-over matches saw both sides start with 200 runs and have five runs taken away for every wicket lost.

Hawkins batted first and built their score to 243-3 (228 net), with Cannock captain Harry Tooth bagging two vital wickets with the final two balls of the innings and Max Goddard bowling a very accurate over.

When Cannock batted, Tooth hit 18 runs as the innings closed with no wickets lost.

Cannock 264-3 (249 net), Hawkins 225-7 (190 net). Cannock won by 59 runs

Changes were made by both teams for the second fixture, with Cannock giving three more juniors their debut.

They batted first and Ryan Zako set about the Hawkins bowlers, scoring 22 from the first two overs, including a six. The innings ended on 264-3 (249 net).

Thomas Hailey opened the bowling for Cannock and gained two wickets in two balls. Further wickets from Max Goddard and Prithvi Singh made the task harder for the visitors.

They needed 49 from the last two overs but Billy Cassidy bowled tightly, and Tooth sealed a fine day by grabbing three more wickets

Great Wyrley ABC's Mitchell Howie

Hard working Howie impresses

GREAT WYRLEY ABC boxer Mitchell Howie can consider himself unfortunate to have dropped a majority decision against hometown boxer Connor Huntsback (Tenbury Wells ABC).

Both boxers made a very fast start at Tenbury Wells High School but Howie's jab soon found the target and his more accurate punching gave him an advantage in the first round.

The second round saw Huntsback deciding it wasn't wise to stand toe-to-toe with the strong Howie and he used the ring more, flicking out the jab.

However, Howie still managed to drag him into a fight and the Tenbury Wells boxer finished the session with a heavy nose bleed.

Boxing

It was all on the last round and both lads gave their all as the packed crowd roared them on. The very strong Howie chased the tiring Huntsback round the ring and his accurate punching and better workrate seemed to have swung the decision his way. However, it was not to be.

Howie can take a lot of pluses from this bout and come back even stronger next season.

Meanwhile, in the professional ranks, Walsall's Joel Ryan pushed Chris Higgs all the way but ultimately conceded the British Masters title to the hometown fighter in a belter of a contest at the GL1 Leisure Centre, Gloucester.

Ryan lost 98-93 on points in the main event after 10 rounds. The margin in favour of Higgs, from neighbouring Lyndey, was arguably harsh on the beaten man.

His eyes firmly fixed on upsetting the apple cart and taking the vacant belt back to the West Midlands, Ryan let Higgs know from the opening bell that he hadn't come to roll over.

Rounds three and four saw Ryan start to break through, rocking Higgs' head back with right hooks.

Higgs was tapping Ryan to the side of the head with clear but unloaded shots and using his footwork to dodge out of trouble.

Ryan, behind on the scorecard, went all out for a knockout in the final round but Higgs held out.

Striker is thankful to loyal manager

WILL GRIGG has insisted he always believed he would rediscover his goal touch and has thanked Walsall boss Dean Smith for keeping faith in him.

The striker started Northern Ireland's 6-0 defeat by Holland in Amsterdam on Saturday despite scoring just four goals last season.

His first call-up came after he ended a seven-month goal drought with the winner in the final-day 1-0 victory at MK Dons last month.

And the 20-year-old felt he would come good thanks to Smith's backing.

"I wasn't too worried," he said. The gaffer said he knew what I could do, but I got a hamstring injury late in the season which was very frustrating.

"The gaffer picked me for the first few games of the season.

"I scored at Sheffield United and against Carlisle but then it was just one of those things.

"Things were not happening for me in the matches and he dropped me but kept telling me to keep going.

"The gaffer has been great. I broke through under Chris Hutchings but Dean Smith came in and pushed me on.

"It has been a great learning curve."

Raging Bull's story is returning to screen

JAKE LaMOTTA insists his life story will again be immortalised on the silver screen.

The 90-year-old, world champion from 1949-51, confirmed a second film is being made about his life. He revealed the plan at a sportsman's dinner at the Mount Hotel in Tettenhall, Wolverhampton.

The news came 32 years after 'Raging Bull' – starring Robert De Niro as LaMotta and directed by Martin Scorsese – dominated the 1980 Academy Awards.

by Craig Birch

And there will be a sequel – with William Forsythe attached to star as LaMotta both before and after his pro boxing career – hot on the heels of a documentary called 'Moving Ahead'.

LaMotta said: "Raging Bull Two is coming out and it's going to talk about my early age in boxing.

"But there's going to be a documentary coming out right before that, it's in the works.

Sparring

"Two more beautiful things are going to happen in my life and I don't know if I deserve it, or do I?

"I have spoken to William Forsythe and I think he will do a good job.

"I am curious to see how it's going to come out. Robert was a great actor and, by the time I got done with him, he could have fought professionally.

"That's how good he was, he was fantastic.

"In the beginning, when we were sparring, he was afraid to hit me.

"I said to him: 'You can hit me all you want, because you are not going to hurt me.'

"I wanted to play myself in the movie but the producer said I wasn't the type!"

LaMotta has been married a further three times and aged 46 years since the timescale of the original 'Raging Bull' came to an end. Today, he's engaged to be wed for a sixth time, to fiancée Denise.

That happiness contrasts with his most infamous act, openly throwing a fight for the Mafia against Billy Fox in 1947.

That got the New York-born Italian-American his world title-winning shot against Marcel Cerdan in 1949 and it still cuts deep – in the film version he wept in the dressing room.

He said: "It was a tough and rough era and it was the Mafia era. They had a lot to say and do in that time.

"They made me do something I didn't want to do so I could get the chance to fight for the middleweight championship of the world.

"And, if I had to do it all over again, I think I would have done the same thing."

Dave dives in for a haul of swimming medals

IT WAS lucky seven for swimmer Dave Holland in the long course Great Britain Masters event.

Holland, of Chase Swimming Club, landed seven medals in the competition at Ponds Forge, Sheffield.

He grabbed four golds, two silver and a bronze in the 30-34 age group.

Holland's victories came in the 400m, 800m and 1,500m freestyle plus the 400m individual medley.

He was runner-up in the 200m freestyle and 200m butterfly and took his bronze in the 200m backstroke.

Holland, who thanked coaching staff at the Chase club, is now getting set to take to the open water.

He is part of a team attempting a Dover-Calais relay Channel swim next month for charity.

Yates gain cup after long wait

Yates Sports 2 Homestead 1

YATES SPORTS lifted the Brereton Town Cup for only the second time in their history after an 18-year wait.

First Division Homestead were appearing in their second final of the season and again it went into extra-time.

Yates took the lead from a well-worked set-piece. A long throw-in level with the penalty box was met perfectly by the head of Steve Jones who directed the ball into the top corner of the net.

Homestead equalised but in extra-time Jones got the winner, a carbon copy of his first goal.

Guest of honour Jim Houston handed over the trophy decked in green and white ribbons in front of a crowd of 247 in the last final of the season.

Dramatic victory is sealed with a ball left

Cannock and Rugeley 239, Swindon 237. Cannock and Rugeley won by two runs

Jim Taylor bagged the vital last wicket to take the win.

Brothers Adam Lawley (66) and Nick Lawley (48) were Cannock and Rugeley's main run-scorers in their 239 with Taylor (34) and another Lawley brother, Greg (17), adding vital runs at No.9 and No.10 respectively.

Dan Wale and Michael Osborn claimed three wickets each for Swindon,

Paul Wale hit 102 as Swindon looked set to chase down the target.

But he was the ninth man out with Taylor (2-24) sealing the win.

Cannock and Rugeley captain James Lawley said: "It was an exciting game and both teams did their best to throw it away because we were both about 40-4.

"But it's good to win games like that.

"It's the second time this season that one of our matches has gone down to the last few balls."

Big-hitting total of 75 for Suliman

Hawkins 243-6 dec, Old Wulfs Tettenhall 151-7. Draw

BIG-HITTING batsman Zaheer Suliman smashed 75 for Hawkins Sports in a winning draw against Old Wulfs Tettenhall.

Suliman, who was the club's leading run-scorer last season, raced to his tally off just 69 balls to help Hawkins make 243-6 declared with Aqsad Ali contributing 72 and Syed Tahir 40.

Qamar Abbas (3-40) and Aqsad Ali (2-23) then led the way with the ball, but Old Wulfs held on for a draw with Chris Fullwood making an unbeaten 53 to add to his earlier 3-15.

Hawkins captain Hubeen Rashid said: "Zaheer hasn't scored too many runs so far this year, mainly because we've been so unlucky with the weather, so it was nice to see him get a big score.

"He is a big player for us and we're hoping that will get him back into the kind of form he showed last year, when he was a major factor for us."

Chasetown boss lines up 12 players

by Craig Birch

CHASETOWN manager Craig Harris today revealed he's provisionally signed 12 players for next season – including 10 from last season's squad.

The Scholars boss's retained list from the playing staff he inherited this summer has hit double figures, with two new additions also set to arrive.

Harris is hoping to land more of his targets over the coming weeks, but he cannot register the deals until July 1, when non-contract forms are accepted.

They are then formally placed with the Evo-Stik Northern League, although interested clubs can still talk to their players after making a seven-day approach.

But Harris is confident the majority of the squad will be staying at the Scholars Ground, with a number of them having already put pen to paper.

He said: "We have shaken hands and they have signed the forms and that pretty much puts it to bed, usually.

"But, obviously, I can't date them and I can't send them off, so we are waiting.

"I have got 12 now, including last year's squad and I wanted to know where I stood with keeping them. I am still speaking to lads, as well."

The club have been told they will be placed in the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League First Division South next season after relegation.

It's the division they were promoted from in 2010 and an immediate return to the league above will be the aim for new boss Harris, who was appointed last month.

The 37-year-old former Scholars captain has been busy devising a pre-season fixture list and has lined up a clash with a strong side from Football League club Crewe.

They visit the Scholars Ground on the Monday night of July 16, two days after the preparations begin for the new campaign at Sporting Khalsa.

After Crewe, the Scholars head to Evo-Stik Southern Premier League side Redditch on the Saturday before a trip to Harris's former club, Tipton, the following Saturday.

West Midlands rivals Stourbridge have also been pencilled in for a game at the Scholars Ground on Tuesday August 7.

Harris is also hoping to arrange another game against strong opposition.

MELBOURNE BACK TO FILL BIG BOOTS

HEDNESFORD boss Rob Smith has admitted Chris Clements will be "irreplaceable", despite bringing Alex Melbourne back to Keys Park to cover the gap.

The 17-goal midfield ace has, as expected, signed for Blue Square Premier club Mansfield on a two-year deal for an undisclosed fee after weeks of talks.

Another Pitmen star has followed him out of the exit door in talented defender Cheyenne Dunkley.

by Craig Birch

The 20-year-old, the Supporters' Association, Manager's and Players' Player of the Year, has left for Kidderminster Harriers.

The two had played the bulk of their non-league football for the club but were hankering for a return to the full-time game after being trainees at Crewe.

Melbourne also has a pro grounding after starting out at Wolves, moving on to Hednesford before leaving for Chasetown at the start of last season.

The 22-year-old finished the season at Rushall Olympic and now starts his second spell with the Pitmen, but Smith admits they will still miss Clements.

The manager said: "He is irreplaceable, it's quite simple. We will not be able to get another Chris Clements.

"At times, he left us speechless and the goals he scored against Frickley and Chester last season will never be forgotten.

"Chris has so much pure natural ability on the ball.

"He is comfortable receiving the ball, despite being marked, and this will be important at Mansfield.

"Overall, I think the major factor in his play will be that he is a goalscoring midfielder and can score so many types of goals."

But Smith added it was an "easy decision" to bring Melbourne back to the club.

He said: "Alex left us to get more games and he fitted in well and scored goals from a more advanced position.

"The fact he wanted to be part of the squad again made it an easy decision."

Smith has also made calls on other members of last season's squad and has released striker Nick Wellecomme and utility man Jay Denny.

Wellecomme has been deemed surplus to requirements after three forwards signed this summer – Michael Lennon, Neil Harvey and Aaron Rey.

Denny joined Hednesford in July 2010 and the former United States under-20 international has played over 100 games for the club.

But another five players have agreed to stay with goalkeeper Dan Crane signing a one-year deal while Elliott Durrell, Ben Bailey, Jamey Osborne and Darren Campion have also committed themselves to the cause.

Crane is another Pitmen centurion and has been an ever-present between the sticks under Smith over the last two seasons.

Golfer picked to join England team in Japan

A GOLFER from Cannock Chase has been selected to play for England in the World Deaf Golf Championships.

Richard Le Page will be part of the England team in the competition in Japan.

It takes place in October.

The 50-year-old, who is hard of hearing, plays at Brocton Hall Golf Club.

He took up golf 22 years ago, having played football as his main sport.

"I'm just over the moon to be playing for my country," said the father of two, who is married to Kaye.

"To play on the world stage is unbelievable."

He funds his golf playing and travel to tournaments himself and works full-time as a flooring contractor.

A race night will be held at Brocton Hall tomorrow (7pm) to help raise cash for the England team's participation in the championships.

Mixed bag for Cannock at start of Twenty-20

CANNOCK held out for a Birmingham League Division Two draw against Harborne and beat Brewood in round one of the league's Twenty/20 competition.

Harborne (15pts) 204-3, Cannock (3pts) 104-5. Draw

Persistent rain resulted in the game being reduced to 32 overs for each team.

Harborne promoted their New Zealand international player Ian Butler to open the innings.

When he was dismissed in the 28th over he had scored 129 runs out of 170.

Harborne closed on 204-3 and in reply Sean Collings (35 not out), John Cooke (20) and Andrew LeFeaver (16) ensured that Cannock avoided defeat.

Cannock 140, Brewood 125. Cannock won by 15 runs

Opener Richie Hewitt (41) led the way and was supported by Andrew LeFeaver (31) and a late flurry by Jamie Probert (22 not out) as Cannock set a decent target.

In reply, Brewood's Chris Pearce (39) and Dave Wedge (25) top-scored.

But excellent bowling by Andrew Hawkins (3-23) and Eddie Martin (2-28) saw Cannock safely through to a second round game at Shifnal.
